Passport to Summer Learning Around the World!

Year 17 of Summer Seals Day Camp has begun, and we are enjoying our time together learning and building relationships! This year, Susquehanna (SU) graduate and returnee to Summer Seals, Brooke Leitzel and Susquehanna junior, Allie Keister are teaching our rising third graders. SU senior and returnee, Katie Sheaffer and SU junior, Brandon Zimmerman are teaching our rising fourth graders. SU senior and returnee, Joanna Campbell, and SU junior, Lauren Weinhoffner, are teaching the rising fifth graders. This summer, we are focusing on travel with themes around tourist attractions, community and culture, and transportation.

Don't forget to like our Summer Seals Day Camp Facebook page to stay up to date on our explorations!

This past week, students read about and explored tourist attractions around the world! Students had learning opportunities with hands-on experiences and readings about Egypt, Paris, Hawaii, and more! Campers have had a blast so far, and it's only the beginning. We appreciate you following our adventure as we read, create, investigate around the world!
